HOLY GRID

We, the United States of America, your top quality supplier of the ideals of liberty and democracy, would like to apologize for our 2001-2008 interruption in service. The technical fault that led to this eight-year service outage has been located, and the software responsible was replaced November 4.

Early tests of the newly installed program indicate that we are now operating correctly, and we expect it to be fully functional on January 20. We apologize for any inconvenience caused by the outage. We look forward to resuming full service and hope to improve in years to come. We thank you for your patience and understanding. Sincerely, Your Country

"We remain a young nation, but in the words of Scripture, the time has come to set aside childish things. The time has come to reaffirm our enduring spirit; to choose our better history; to carry forward that precious gift, that noble idea, passed on from generation to generation: the God-given promise that all are equal, all are free, and all deserve a chance to pursue their full measure of happiness." ~ President Barack Obama

Courage does not always roar. Sometimes, it is the quiet voice at the end of the day saying, "I will try again tomorrow." ~ Anonymous

FROM THE KING

Martin Luther, Jr. that is... "A nation or civilization that continues to produce soft-minded men purchases its own spiritual death on the installment plan. A nation that continues year after year to spend more money on military defense than on programs of social uplift is approaching spiritual doom.

"Everything that we see is a shadow cast by that which we do not see. Human salvation lies in the hands of the creatively maladjusted. Never forget that everything Hitler did in Germany was legal. He who passively accepts evil is as much involved in it as he who helps to perpetrate it. He who accepts evil without protesting against it is really cooperating with it.

"We may have all come on different ships, but we're in the same boat now."

"We change our experience by changing our thought." ~ Dr. David Walker, LACRS

THE WATERSIGN THEATRE?

Your zodiac sign corresponds to the position of the sun relative to constellations as they appeared over 2200 years ago so, today, you may not be what you think you are.

The Earth continually wobbles around its axis in a 25,800-year cycle. This wobble—called precession—is caused by the gravitational attraction of the Moon on Earth's equatorial bulge. Over the past two-and-a-half millennia, this has caused the intersection point between the celestial equator and the ecliptic to move west along the ecliptic by 36 degrees, or almost exactly one-tenth of the way around. This means that the signs have slipped almost one whole month around the sky to the west, relative to the stars beyond.

For instance, those born between March 21 and April 19 consider themselves to be Aries. Today, the Sun is no longer within the constellation of Aries during much of that period. From March 11 to April 18, the Sun is actually in the constellation of Pisces!

MORE BACKROOM STORIES

Ric Janes writes, "By the tides of the moon, or something, yet another tale of – ahem – 'rectitude' fell into my lap the other night without my prodding, so to speak. I thought it was incumbent upon me to share this deep, dark story with the Planet Proctor.

"In casual conversation, a nurse friend piped up out of nowhere that a bizarre occurrence had rudely intruded on her reality when a man came into her ER last week with a G.I. Joe doll trapped in his rectum. The extraction went smoothly, and, afterwards, the intern asked the man how it happened that he had a G.I. Joe stuck in his caboose. The patient was in good spirits and replied jocularly, 'I guess I took the phrase sex toy way too literally.'

The kicker: the intern noticed that the insertee had left his G.I. Joe behind and that it was a talking doll. Still wearing rubber gloves, he absentmindedly pulled the string. A tinny, slightly garbled voice squawked, 'C'mon, boys, let's take that hill!'"

DON'T BE CRUEL

A mother and a daughter are shopping in the mall when the mother eyes an expensive fur coat. "This year," she says, "I think that I'll buy my present instead of making you and dad shop for me." The daughter nods in agreement. "And I think this fur coat would be perfect."

"But mom," her daughter protests, "some helpless, poor creature has to suffer so that you can have this."

"Don't worry honey," says the mother, "your father won't get the bill for a couple of weeks."

"My wife has a slight impediment in her speech. Every now and then she stops to breathe" ~ Jimmy Durante

DOGGIE: 'CHOO!

A team of Australian drug-sniffer dogs has been sent back for retraining after it was found they could only track talcum powder and not cocaine. "If there's any missing kids, we'll find them fairly quickly," joked Assistant Commissioner Paul Evans.

They were supposed to squat next to a person when detecting the scent of coke. Unfortunately, the dogs have never smelled the drug, since the white stuff supplied by their trainers turned out to be baby powder. There is no word on how long it will take to break the dogs' talcum habit and retrain them to know that "coke's the one..."

TALK ABOUT ROCK AND ROLL!

York's Dr. Rupert Till, a Huddersfield University professor and part-time D.J., believes that Stonehenge was created as an ancient "rave" arena slowly perfected by England's ancestors over time, and probably had concert-like acoustics designed to amplify a "repetitive trance rhythm".

Till used a computer model to conduct experiments in a life-sized concrete replica of Stonehenge at Maryhill, Washington with all the stones intact, which was constructed as a war memorial by road builder, Sam Hill, and was able to reproduce the sound of someone speaking and clapping 5,000 years ago.

"The most interesting thing is we managed to get the whole space to resonate, almost like a wine glass will ring if you run a finger round it. While that was happening a simple drumbeat sounded incredibly dramatic. The space had real character; it felt that we had gone somewhere special."

MILK IT...

A woman and a baby were in the doctor's examining room, waiting for the doctor to come in for the baby's first exam. The doctor arrived, checked his weight, saw it was a little low, and asked if the baby was breast-fed or bottle-fed. 'Breast-fed,' she replied. 'Well, strip down to your waist,' the doctor ordered.

She did. He pinched her nipples, pressed, kneaded, and rubbed both breasts for a while in a very professional and detailed examination. Motioning to her to get dressed, the doctor said, 'No wonder this baby is underweight. You don't have any milk.'

I know,' she said, 'I'm his Grandma. But I'm glad I came.'
